I grew up in Faxon, Oklahoma and attended Oklahoma State University, receiving a degree in Fire Protection and Safety Engineering Technology in 2003. For the past eleven years, I have been dedicated to saving lives and protecting property through my work as a Fire Protection Engineer at Poole Fire Protection in Olathe, Kansas. I have worked with private and public sector clients to design, review, and inspect fire protection and life safety systems. My projects have included educational facilities, healthcare facilities, commercial facilities, and military and DOE installations. I am a member of the Mo-Kan Chapter of the Society of Fire Protection Engineers, the National Fire Protection Association, and the Kansas City Area Healthcare Engineers.

I currently live in Overland Park with my wife, Tobe, who is a graphic designer and blog editor at Hallmark. In my spare time, I enjoy doing science experiments, art projects, and otherwise spending time with my two daughters.
