Bio

Cristy grew up in Laramie and Casper, Wyoming. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering in 2005 and Master of Science in Civil Engineering (Structural emphasis) in 2007, both from the University of Wyoming. She has earned her PE and SE licensure and holds professional engineering licenses in Kansas, Wyoming, Colorado and Florida.

Cristy joined PEC in 2013 where she is a project manager and team lead in the Structural Division. She specializes in analysis and design of conventional steel, masonry, concrete and timber structures. Her responsibilities include project management, structural design and analysis, multidisciplinary coordination and contract document production. Cristy's structural design experience includes a variety of projects in the medical, aviation, educational, military, industrial and commercial industries. Prior to PEC she worked at Conestoga-Rovers & Associates in Pensacola, FL and Hermanson Egge Engineering in Rapid City, SD.
